PRESIDENT TAFT SEES BALL GAME

Chief Executive Discards Golf and Watches White Sox Trim the Nationals.

RAIN DELAYS THE GAME

President Taft substituted baseball for golf yesterday afternoon. The President plays golf nearly every week day, and while he does not play baseball he enjoys a good game now and then. The occasion of his patronizing the game to-day was the return of the Washington team, which stands second in the American League, from a victorious tour of several weeks in the West. On June 19, the day of the opening of the Chicago Republican Convention, the President went out to the ball park to welcome the team. While Col. Roosevelt was organizing his herd of bull moose to stampede the convention the President apparently was without a rare and enjoyed the game thoroughly. It was the first game upon the return of the team from having won sixteen consecutive games abroad. The President joined the first ball.

Yesterday was the first time the President had seen a ball game since his nomination. Instead of helping to lead the team to victory yesterday, however, he was disappointed by the Chicago White Sox, trimming Washington by a score of 1 to 3.

How to Protect Hair and Skin in Summer

Summer months are trying on the hair, because of the excessive perspiration and the great amount of dust flying. This dulls the hair and makes it "matty" and unmanageable, yet it is easy to restore the rich color and massy softness and keep the hair bright and pretty during the hottest weather by shampooing with camphor, a teaspoonful of which dissolved in a cup of hot water is enough for a thorough cleansing.

Oiliness, freckles, tan and other complexion disfigurements disappear following the use of a sprumax lotion. This is made by stirring 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine into 1 pint witch hazel (or hot water), then adding 4 ounces sprumax. The lotion dries quickly, is invisible when on, and imparts a delightful tint and velvety smoothness to the skin. Perspiration will not spot the sprumax lotion, nor will the wind blow it off.
